Deaf Boy Asks:
"Have You Seen My Little Dog, Taffy?"

Little Jimmie Smith, 12 year old son of Mrs. Doris Smith, Mokena who attends a school for deaf children in Milwaukee, was heart broken to learn, upon spending the week end at home, that his pet dog, Taffy, was not there. The dog is a small white cocker spaniel with a tan cast, and has been a playmate of the child since it was a few weeks old.

Jimmie will not be home again until Easter week, and is building up hopes that Taffy will have returned home by that time. He insisted that his mother write often between now and that time telling him what she hears of him.

If Taffy was stolen, or if it was found and was not returned because the finder did not know who the owner was, it is Mrs. Smith's earnest hope that, for the sake of her little boy, who is heart broken over the loss of his pal, the dog will be returned at once. No questions will be asked. Mrs. Smith lives at 114th ave. and 197th st. Mokena, telephone 3351 Mokena, and will greatly appreciate any information that may lead to discovering the whereabouts of the puppy.

Jimmie is in the 4th grade and on the honor roll. Where a normal child spends but one year in a grade, deaf children are required to spend two years to complete a grade.

FRANKFORT
SCHOOL $100

The Bobzin-Swinford American Legion post 1098 at Frankfort decided at their meeting Tuesday, March 8, to give $100 each year to be used towards a field trip for the graduation class of the Frankfort public school. The nature of the trip is to be decided by the teacher.

The Legion post wrote a letter to this effect to the principal, Miss Viola Lankenau, and enclosed their check for $100, stating that this amount will be sent to the school principal each year on or before April 1. The letter was signed by Clark J. Dennis.

Of course there is much joy over this by the teachers, as well as the children, but according to Miss Lankenau the decision had already been made at the time of receipt of the check, and that was to take a field trip by bus to New Salem, and tour the state capitol at Springfield, some time in April.

The teachers at Frankfort had a visiting day last Friday when they visited the schools at Matteson, Flossmoor, and Park Forest.

Golden Birthdays

Diane was the only case of polio in Mokena last summer. She contracted the disease in September and was forced to miss the opening of school. She is recovering nicely now, but is still taking therapy treatments once a week in Silver Cross hospital. Her mother is high in praise of the March of Dimes for the wonderful aid they have given Diane.

Diane is an 8th grade pupil in St. Mary's school at Mokena. Mrs. Wesley Cappel entertained in her home on First street, Mokena, after school Tuesday afternoon, March 8, a group of playmates and schoolmates in honor of her son Denny and his golden birthday. Denny was 8 years old on that day.

To Issue Shaving
Permits At $5 To Men Of Frankfort

The publicity committee for the Frankfort Centennial, of which Herbert Lambrecht is chairman, met last Friday night, when it was pointed out that a great amount of enthusiasm has been shown by everyone for the big event to be held in August, which bids fair for a highly successful celebration.

The men are now growing sideburns, beards, Van Dykes, mustaches, and, in a few cases, handle-bar moustaches, to catapult themselves into the spirit of a hundred years ago. Shaving permits are being issued for those who do not wish too part with their razors. On the permit is inscribed: "Brothers of the Brush Shaving Permit." The permit costs $5, and if worn, the Frankfortian may shave without fear of penalty.

The barbers of Frankfort, Walter Pfaff and Burnett Schram, have made a suggestion that $5 be turned over to the barbers, and $2.50 of which will be returned by the barber to the centennial committee. Whenever bearded citizens come in for a haircut the barber will also trim their beards, point them up, and when the celebration is over shave off their growth as slick as can be.

"Brothers of the Brush" pay $1 for a permit to grow a beard, etc. Some men who have begun to look like grizzly bears and who have traveled from the village have suffered embarrassment because of their scraggly whiskers and fine clothes, which do not mix. The permit, which will be worn on their coat, will serve as an identification tag, or as an apology, at the same time advertising the centennial.

One Frankfort business man who has outdistanced all the others in beard-growing suffered mortification in Chicago last week when some wag told him that the flophouses were on Skid Row, on West Madison street. This embarrassment would have been averted, he says, if he had worn a permit, which would have explained the situation.

Morton Blaylock is chairman of the plug hat committee. The hats, which are replicas of pre-Civil War days, sell for $1.25 and are going like hot cakes.

The committee has received notice that their consignment of wooden nickels has been shipped. Citizens of Frankfort and visitors to the centennial much exchange good U.S. nickels for wooden nickels, which will be accepted currency at the centennial. Everything bought at the centennial will be bought with wooden nickels. After the centennial is over the wooden nickels can be redeemed for U. S. currency.

While August seems a long way off, the centennial committee does not think so. To them August is just around the corner, and no stone is being left unturned to make this Centennial something that will be talked about far and wide.

GRADE SCHOOL HEAVYWEIGHTS
TAKE ON BOARD OF EDUCATION

Meteors With 4 Trophies Expect To Put Crimp In Overconfident Challengers Pronto

The Meteors, Mokena grade school heavyweights, will defend their village championship this Saturday night, March 19 against the challenge of the Vagabonds, the Board of Education, undefeated as a basketball team up to this time. The game will bring together two outstanding teams, both with proud records and both teams loaded with stars. The game will be played in the Mokena school gym, and is being sponsored by the Mokena PTA.

The Vagabonds boast an unblemished record and from reports which have been received from their secret practice sessions this week, the team is in peak condition for the best game of the year. There had been rumors that flashy Buckets Geuther, ace of the Vagabonds attack, was ailing, but Coach Cappel reports he is in shape to go all the way Saturday night. The team has developed an offense which is new to this area and many veteran basketball ob servers expect the record books to be rewritten when their whirlwind attack is unleashed against the Meteors. Their starting lineup is still a mystery but it seems certain that Captain Scarth, Groucho Powers, Thimma Teague, Shorty Yunker and Tiny Muehler, all will see plenty of action. In addition the team will be ably manned by Flash Gordon and the aforementioned Geuther.

Coach Wrath was quoted this week as saying that his team's chief hope was that the Vagabonds appeared overconfident. If this is the case, the Meteors will stand a chance of upsetting the high flying Vagabonds.

The Meteors bring a fair record into the game themselves. They have won 22 and lost 8 this season. The team has also captured four trophies. The Meteors won second place in both the light and the heavy divisions of the Des Plaines Valley conference. They also captured third place in the Taft tournament, and third place in the New Tones tournament. Their attack is built around center Daugherty, and the sharpshooting of guards Yunker and Lavezzi. An interesting sidelight to the game, the last that Yunker and Powers both have sons playing on the Meteors. It is promised by both teams that this family relationship will have no effect on the outcome of the game.

A preliminary game will start at 7:30, with the feature attraction to start at 8:30. Tickets are selling like hot cakes, therefore those who want to see this basketball thriller should see any of the members to get their tickets in advance.

Blind Minister
Shows The Way To
Many At Banquet

Rev. Robert S. Kieser, blind pastor of the 4th Presbyterian church, Springfield, taught some unforgettable lessons to 166 fathers and sons on the occasion of their annual banquet at St. John's church, Mokena, last Friday evening. The speaker held his audience spellbound for an hour during his address on "Adventures in Darkness" in which he related and demonstrated the freedom possible to a blind person.

In outlining his philosophy of life, he brought forth many hidden things which often escape those who have eyes. His address was full of humor, faith and cheerfulness, and a help to others to find more in life and an inspiration to make the most of what they have.

Frankfort will not participate with Mokena in a joint day camp as they have in previous years as Mokena now has 110 Girl Scouts and Brownies and it is felt that encampment by themselves will be quite large and successful.

Lincoln-Way Students Attend Tenth Annual Business Conference In Chicago

Students of Lincoln-Way went to Northwestern University, Chicago campus, March 3 to attend the 10th annual business conference sponsored by the Chicago Area Business Educators' Association. The CABA presented "Patterns for Business Success." The keynote address was delivered by Mr. J. G. Seveik, president, Burton-Dixie corporation. His address gave many pointers to those who were going out into the business world.

The Gregg Division of Northwestern University, school of shorthand reporting, presented a sketch where students saw dictation being taken up to 300 words a minute. After this sketch, students went into discussion groups in which many points of interest to students were discussed thoroughly and carefully. These groups were:

Group A - Finding Your First Job: Miss Janis Murphy of Janis Murphy Personnel Service.

Group B - Use Your Personality: Mrs. Laurel Cooke, Placement and guidance counselor, Gregg Division, Northwestern University.

Group C - The Secretary and Her Job: Wallace Biddle, Sales Administration Manager, Ditto, Inc.

Group D - What Your Employer Can Offer You: W. H. Billington, salary administrator, Chicago Title and Trust company.

Group E - College Training and Business Leadership: Dr. Frank Endicott, placement director, Northwestern University.

Group F - Know Your Business Customs and Practices: Glen Browne, assistant personnel director, Washington National Insurance company.

Group G - The National Secretaries' Association and the Certified Professional Secretary Certificate: Miss Ruth E. Clemence, First Vice President, Lake Shore Chapter, The National Secretaries' association.

After the discussion groups, A. L. Buock, district sales manager, Marchant Calculators, Inc., delivered a welcome to the OMAC Business Show.

A style show was featured and the commentator was Mrs. Bernice Desmond, mid-western educational director, Advance Pattern Co., Inc.

After the style show the students boarded a bus which took them to the Conrad Hilton hotel and everybody had lunch. After lunch they were greeted by a special guest of the Office Management Association who started them off on their tour of the various office machines. There were thousands of office machines and the group was fascinated with the newest models and features. The auto-typist that types letters for you completely at the flick of a button was one of those machines. It selects paragraphs to be typed just as you operate the juke box. They saw the new Olivetti type-writer and the Vari-Type.

The new modern duplicating machines such as the Multilith and Multigraph and the fabulous Addressograph which addresses thousands of envelopes very rapidly was very interesting. They saw the new Ditto which makes many clear copies in one minute. The new dictating machine was fascinating. Men can dictate from different offices on this machine. The new modern filing systems are a snap. All you have to do is push a button and the file you want comes to you. In the Ril-Dix exhibit the file clerk slides her chair from side to side to work on her files.

This day in Chicago gave them much enjoyment and information, but they were glad to get home with their aching feet.

Teachers To Attend Illinois Curriculum At Chicago Univ.

Three members of the Lincoln-Way High school staff, Ralph Wright, Earl Dieken, Charles Ellermann will attend the Illinois Curriculum program workshop at the University of Chicago March 1 through April 1.

This workshop is one of a series throughout the state in order to assist the schools in carrying on the Citizenship Education project. This Citizenship Education project was initiated at Columbia university in 1950 and has been growing rapidly thru out the nation. The Illinois Curriculum program has been back ing citizenship education for the past four years and at present, our state is leading in the number of schools that are cooperating in the citizenship area.

The workshop serves the purpose of acquainting the staff members with recent materials in the field of citizenship education, and also helps train the teachers so that the program can be carried out more effectively in their own school system. The workshop staff will include consultants from the Illinois Curriculum program as well as representatives from the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

This past week the Lincoln-Way staff met with Carter Frieberg, consultant for the ICP from the University of Chicago. Mr. Frieberg briefed the staff concerning the approaching workshop and briefly discussed curriculum plans with them. He plans to make several additional visits to the school in the near future.

The Lincoln-Way staff is anxious to cooperate with the state wide curriculum program, and this workshop is one of the ways in which the school will keep itself abreast of recent curriculum developments.

Motor Club Head Says Ill. School Bus Law Outmoded

The Illinois school bus law needs amending because sections of it have been outmoded by multi-lane highway construction according to Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

He said safer driving conditions would also result from bringing the law into accord with the model law adopted by the National Committee on Uniform Traffic Laws and Ordinances.

The present law as interpreted by the attorney general makes it mandatory for all vehicles to stop for halted buses, regardless of their direction of travel. Stops are required even on four lane highways divided by median strips.

Hayes cited an example of how the present law, being at variance with laws elsewhere, can cause accidents.

"An out-of-state motorist probably won't know that he is required to stop for a school bus halted on an expressway, and headed in the opposite direction from which he is traveling.

"The motorist in front of him stops. The out-of-state man can't. There is a rear-end collision." Hayes also pointed to the confusion of colors used in various states to paint buses to alert motorists that they are faced with the situation of children alighting.

Bus colors range from unspecified in eight states to black in Louisiana, orange in others, and yellow in 29 other states, Hayes said.

Hayes said the Motor Club had drafted a bill which would amend the present statute. In addition to seeking to get Illinois to conform to the national model law, it would require buses to carry signs with "School Bus" written on them in letters eight inches high. The present requirement is a minimum of four inches.

The accident took place March 11, 1954 on the Tinley Park-Mokena road, at the Rock Island crossing about a mile north east of Mokena. A truck driven by John Valuch Jr. was struck by a train. Valuch and his father in law, Adam Drzik, were fatally injured.

Anthony A. Dina, of Mokena, as administrator of the estate of John Valuch Jr., has sued the Rock Island, asking $20,000. Mrs. Catherine Valuch, who was a passenger in the truck driven by her husband is suing the railroad for $15,000 for personal injuries. At the time of the crash Mrs. Valuch was riding in the front seat with her husband. The suits were filed by Attorneys Thomas Powers and Raymond Hoohehan.

Earlier, another suit had been started by Mrs. Elizabeth Matula, of Chicago and Mrs. Anna Kuchta of Mokena, both sisters of Mrs. Valuch.

Mrs. Matula brought suit in her capacity of administrator of the estate of her father, Mr. Drzik, who was riding in the rear of the truck at the time of grade crossing crash. She is asking $15,000.

The family was enroute to Whiting, Ind. to attend the wake being held for Mrs. Kuchta's mother in law.

All four suits are against the Rock Island.

Versatile Nickel

A half-century ago the important applications for the metal nickel were relatively limited. Today, mainly through development, research and sales activities, its versatility has become well-known throughout the industrial world. Nickel is an important alloying element for steels — particularly stainless steels. It vastly improves the properties of cast irons, and it is alloyed with chromium iron, copper, aluminum and other elements to give special properties for mechanical, chemical, electrical, magnetic and other purposes. It is employed in large quantities for nickel-plating and is a vital element used in almost every means of transportation and communication; in the processing and serving of foods; in the production and distribution of fuel, and the development of natural resources.

The Navy uses more than seven million items in the construction of a modern Navy submarine.

Post Office Considers Handling Freight Size Packages, Adding To Postal Deficit

Chairman Tom Murray (D) of Tennessee, and Rep. Edward H. Rees (R) of Kansas, ranking minority member of the House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service, introduced identical bills calculated to produce $343 million in new postal revenue. The increase proposed would increase publishers' second class mail rates by about 15 per cent for two successive years and provide additional revenues of about $16.5 million during the next two years. The measure would be effective July 1, 1955. Postmaster Gen. Summerfield had recommended a 42 per cent increase in second-class mailing rates. He reported that in the last fiscal year the Department had lost $242,000,000 in second class mailing operations alone.

In the Feb. 24 issue of this paper we published a news release from the U. S. Post Office. In this report it was stated that the government is now losing money at the rate of at least a million dollars every working day. "Since World War II, during a period of unprecedented national prosperity," the report stated, "the post office department has operated at a total loss of more than $4 billion dollars." It was stated that in the fiscal year 1954 the post office department operated at a loss of $399.5 million, and that new postal revenue was now needed to meet increase costs and to provide facilities to keep pace with the growing mail volume and to improve postal service.

The amazing thing is that the government now is considering a postal freight bill (H.R. 73) that would increase the size and weight limits on parcel post moving between large cities and towns. This bill was introduced at the recent opening session of Congress by Rep. Joel T. Broyhill (R. Va.) This bill, if passed, would boost much higher the staggering postal deficit.

The Railway Express Agency, Inc. has issued a comprehensive 20-page report entitled "The Truth about Parcel Post," which asserts that the government's transportation service has been "abused for the private profit of a few - at enormous loss to the American public." The report claims that if the government is pressured into handling larger freight-size packages between larger cities, it would be contrary to presently accelerated efforts to get the government out of business.

The Railway Express booklet also shows that fourth class parcel post mail has accumulated a deficit of $1.2 billion since 1926, and that in the past nine years alone, through the 1954 fiscal year, the reported deficit amounted to $890 million.

In a foreword, A. L. Hammel, president of Railway Express, says that until Congress acted in 1951, certain commercial shippers had become accustomed over the years to the "special privilege" of having the taxpayer underwrite a large portion of their transportation costs through below-cost parcel post rates. The 82nd Congress passed corrective legislation - public law 199 that withdrew some of the special privileges. Beginning Jan. 1, 1952, it no longer was possible for them to send large, heavy freight-type packages between first-class post offices. Competition with private carriers was partially removed and a source of great deficit was checked.

Mr. Hammel claims that these same relatively few companies, most of whom sell merchandise by mail, want a return of the special privileges that were taken away from them by this legislation. "If they succeed," he warns, "it means a large increase in the volume of freight-handled business handled by the post office, and an ever greater staggering annual loss to the public."

MOKENA PARK BOARD MAKES 1954 REPORT

During the past year, the new Mokena village park has begun to take shape, and continued improvements are planned for the coming season by the park committee of the Mokena Civic Association.

In the past year, the park has been graded, water has been installed, grass planted and the soil improved, and the brush removed at the entrance on LaPorte road. In addition to this, pipe and wire have been obtained for the construction of backstops. In order that the public, who have so generously supported the park, may know the expenditures made during the year 1954, the park board has made available the following figures showing income and expenses:

Planned for this coming season is the construction of an attractive park entrance, an extension of the water system, toilet facilities, final lay-out and construction of the ball diamonds, and picnic facilities.

In addition to the expenses shown for the year, there have been hundreds of dollars of additional services which have been donated by organizations and individuals, and the Park Board wishes to acknowledge their indebtedness to the Mokena Village Board and the following individuals; Daniel G. Walker of New Lenox, Ray Powers, Marion Owen, Wilbert Lauffer, Leo Marcoux, Charles Swanberg, Bud Warning, Harold and George Swanberg, and Louis Stelter, all of whom have contributed generously of their time and/or equipment.

By permission of the village board, the park board meetings are now being held in the village hall on the first Monday of every month, and the attendance of the public is urged and invited.

TAX RATES FOR FRANKFORT AND MOKENA LOWER

Residents of Mokena and Frankfort are scheduled to pay less in real estate and personal property taxes this year. County Clerk Joseph H. Hartley has announced that the tax rates for both villages are less than they were a year ago.

The rates apply to each $100 of equalized assessed valuation... by multiplying the valuation by the rate one arrives at the amount he must pay in taxes.

County Clerk Hartley pointed out that the tax rate figured out for each taxing body is determined by the amount of money these taxing bodies seek to raise through their levies. The assessed valuation is so much - the levy is so much - so how much of a rate do you have to have to raise the money to meet the levy?

The town assessors fix valuations by following a certain formula. Then the state department of revenue looks at the total and fixes upon a factor which is used to multiply the figures set by the assessors. This gives what is called the equalized assessed valuation and is supposed to be the fair market value of the property.

In the village of Mokena the total tax rate to be used this spring is $2.609 or six and a half cents less than a year ago, while the total rate in the village of Frankfort is $2.944 or eight and a half cents less last year. In the village of New Lenox the new rate is higher, $3.082 as compared to $2.939 last year, a difference of 14 cents and three mills.

A break down of the figures that make up the rates for these three villages, follows:

In the other parts of Frankfort township outside the two villages, county, forest preserve, town and road and bridge taxes remain unchanged. Of course, there is no village tax in these surrounding areas but there is considerable variety in the totals because of the difference in rates in the different school districts.

All of Frankfort township is in High School district 210 so there is no variation in that rate but the elementary school districts do vary.

The school tax in District 154 is .839 cents per $100 valuation so persons living in that district will have a total rate of $2.371 per $100 valuation.

In district 156-A the elementary school tax is .952 cents, which makes the total rate $2.484 per $100 valuation.

In district 161 the elementary school tax is .397 cents making the total rate $1.929.

In district 156, the elementary school tax is .954 cents bringing the total rate per $100 valuation to $2.486.

In district 157-C the elementary tax is $1.150 bringing the total rate to $2.682 outside the village of Frankfort.

In New Lenox township some of the territory is in the Joliet high school district and some in No. 210, the Lincoln-Way district and with the variation in the rates for the various elementary districts there is quite a difference in various parts of the township.

In High School district 210 the rate is $1.123 while the rate for the Joliet high school district No. 204 is .677 cents.

In the following breakdown these figures will not be repeated. Only the rate for the elementary district and the total: Dist. 121 and H. S. 210 .871 cents - $2.576.

Dist. 122 and H. S. Dist 210 - outside the village, total rate $2.749.

Dist. 81 and H. S. Dist 204 - 472 cents - $1.731.

Dist. 119 and H. S. 204 - .773 cents - $2.032.

Dist. 122 and H. S. Dist 204 - outside village, $2.303.

Dist. 81 and H. S. Dist. 210 - 477 - $2.177.

Dist. 119 and H. S. 210 - .773 cents - $2.478.

Dist. 124 and H. S. 210 - .582 cents - $2.287.

Dist. 125 and H. S. 210 - .912 cents - $2.617.

Dist. 126 and H. S. 204 - .780 cents - $2.039.

Dist. 126 and H. S. 210 - total rate $2.485.

Dist. 128 and H. S. 210 - $1.059

$2.764.

Dist. 154 and H. S. 210 - .839 as early as 1800.

cents - $2.544.

Federation of Women's Clubs Join In Drive To Erect World's Largest Cross

The Bald Knob Cross and worship center at Alto Pass, Ill., as rendered by the nationally known architectural firm of Baranek, Conte and Associates. The Cross, which is to be 500 feet high, will be the largest in the world. It will be illuminated at night, and will be visible over a 7500 square mile area.

A $3,000,000 fund drive has been started by the General Federation of Women's Clubs for a mammoth, 500-ft. cross, the largest in the world, to be built atop Bald Knob mountain near the center of population of the United States, in the Shawnee National forest of southern Illinois. The Cross is designed to provide a place of worship for all Christians, with the purpose of achieving a greater unity of religious thinking and effort. The Cross will contain shrines for all denominations, will be illuminated at night, and will be visible over a 7500 square mile area.

Members of the 15,000 clubs of the GFWC urged to become channels through which all people in their communities have an opportunity to contribute.

Mail carrier, Wayman Presley, a native farmer from the hills of Union County, near Cobden, Ill., began, in 1934, to think more deeply about the religious aspects of life. At that time he was postmaster at Makanda, Ill., but the job was confining, so he relinquished the postmaster job to become a rural mail carrier. He often strolled with a friend along the streams where they discussed the need for closer unity in thinking among Christian denominations. Gradually the idea evolved that there should be some place where people of all denominations could meet occasionally for united worship.

Their attention centered on Bald Knob, one of the highest and most scenic mountains in the Midwest. This would be an ideal site. Invitations went out, and a small gathering of 250 people attended the first Easter sunrise service on Bald Knob in 1937. For this service three crude crosses, fashioned from railroad ties by members of the CCC from a nearby camp, were used. The crosses still stand.

By the fifth year crowds of 10,000 were attending the sunrise services. One hundred and sixteen persons from 34 towns and five states, representing nearly every denomination and walk of life in the Midwest, contributed $100 each to a purchase fund, and now comprise the Bald Knob Christian Foundation, Inc., whose purpose is to erect a cross and worship center on top of Bald Knob. The little group has managed to assemble funds to build a foundation for The Cross, and only recently 200 tons of concrete were poured to provide a foundation for a 2,000 ton structure.

Finally Presley, secretary of the Foundation, went to Mrs. Chapman, president of the GFWC, to solicit her aid in obtaining responsible backing for The Cross.

Present plans call for construction of a 500-ft. cross, the tallest religious symbol in the world. The east and west faces of The Cross are to be brilliantly illuminated so it will stand out as a landmark for miles around. Paths leading to The Cross from parking areas and roads will be paved with stones from the paths where Jesus walked in the Holy Land, and cedars from the Forests of Lebanon will dot the landscape.

L-W Footlighters
To Produce
Senior Play

Encouraged by the wonderful response to their play tour in February, the Lincoln-Way Footlighters have begun work on a new production for April. The play, Pink Magic, is based on the 1950 best selling teen-age novel of the same name by Margaret Lee Runbeck.

It involves the bewildering antics of a young girl who is said by her mother to be "Sixteen, and neither fish nor fowl." Those of us who have "split our ribs" with laughter over the hilarity of such comedy standards as Corliss Archer and Henry Aldrich will find new and warm enjoyment in this truly modern treatment of an age old problem.

The senior play is to be presented for the benefit of the senior class of 1955. Tickets will soon be on sale at local business establishments and through any member of the Lincoln-Way Footlighters. Playing dates are Friday and Saturday evenings, April 15 and 16, at Haven school in New Lenox.

Two L-W Speakers
To Be Advanced To
Sectional Contest

In their first appearance in speech competition, the Lincoln-Way speech team walked out with a fourth place win out of a twelve school field. Participating in the Illinois High School Association contest at Joliet Township High school were Bill Heidrich, radio speaking; Tom Chapman, original oration; Rudy Guzlik, verse reading; Everett Hauck, after dinner speaking; Mary Lou Loebe, dramatic reading; and Bill Noble, original monologue.

Nickel-Plating Facilities Augmented

Extensive nickel-plating installations designed and employed for the processing of large atomic energy equipment are expected to be more widely applied for commercial use. This should considerably enlarge the scope of nickel-plated products.

Orchard Hill Tots Get Big Thrill At Fire Station

Meeting Sparky, the dog, was an exciting event for the youngsters from Orchard Hill farm kindergarten, who recently visited the fire station in Harvey. They liked the firemen, who explained how firemen go to sleep every night the same as children do but, the moment the fire alarm rings, jump into their trousers which are fastened inside their rubber boots and pull their sweaters over their heads. The firemen then let the alarm bell clang, and away went Sparky, leaping into one of the fire trucks.

For a month in their farm school the children had been learning about fire stations and post offices, and how helicopters deliver the mail. Now they were taken to the landing field in Harvey, where soon a helicopter came to the ground with mail for the Harvey postman, waiting there in his truck. Before flying away, the pilot said "hello" to the watching children with many dips and gestures of his helicopter.

At the post office the youngsters mailed letters they had written and addressed to themselves, and then saw how the cancelling machine works.

The children are starting their own store in kindergarten now and are also learning about the jobs of farmers and what happens to the milk once it leaves the cow. Soon they will be visiting the Service Bakery, to see at first hand how bread is made, and also the Tinley Park Dairy, to watch the milk being bottled and pasteurized.

Orchard Hill kindergarten is conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnson with the following teachers: from Tinley Park, Mrs.

Donald Boston, Mrs. Vincent VanSlyke, and Mrs. Dick Wille, Jr., from Markham, Mrs. Norman Lugar, and from Homewood, Mrs. Rauch.

Named District Mgr. of Northern Illinois Gas Co.

Barton Juell has been named district manager in this area for Northern Illinois Gas company, according to an announcement by Raymond O. Stauss, southern division manager for the gas utility. Juell succeeds W. Russell Bigelow who retired recently after 43 years service in the utility business.

Juell, a 29-year utility veteran, has been district manager for the gas company's Ottawa district. A University of Minnesota graduate, he has served in many supervisory and official positions for the Public Service company and since last year, Northern Illinois Gas company, in Chicago, Oak Park and Ottawa. During World War II he served in the army five years and was a colonel when he returned to the utility in Ottawa as district gas superintendent in 1946.

Bigelow, who has been identified with local utility activities during his entire career, started with Western United Gas and Electric company, in its Lockport gas plant.

Nickel-Plating

Nickel-plating which was developed on a practical basis in England about 1870, was one of the earliest commercial uses for the metal nickel. Employed principally to protect other materials from atmospheric corrosion, it remains an important application for nickel.

Chemist Puts On Fire Magic Show At Frankfort Lions

Startling pranks with fires and explosions formed part of Monday night's program at the Frankfort Lions' club. In a "fire magic" show, Dr. Llewellyn Heard, research chemist for the Standard Oil company, explained the scientific principles behind fire.

Bubbles of gas rose through water and burst into flame upon reaching the air. An invisible drawing suddenly began burning. A bright fire blazed up with only a handful of iron wire as fuel.

To show that fires also affected by catalysts, Dr. Heard invited his audience to try to burn a lump of sugar. The sugar would not burn without a catalyst, he pointed out, and he found the needed catalyst in the ashes of a cigarette. Many other interesting stunts were performed at the meeting.

Are you a

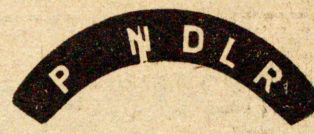

"Do-It-Yourself" Driver?

Or would you rather be waited on hand and foot?

Rather shift for yourself ... or let Powerglide do it?

Shifting's smooth and easy with Chevrolet's new and finer Synchro-Mesh transmission. A flick of your wrist is all it takes to shift gears.

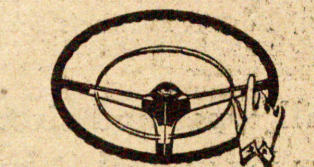

Powerglide, too, is better than ever this year. Even smoother and sturdier. It's the most popular automatic transmission* in Chevrolet's field!

Want standard steering ... or extra-easy Power Steering?

Try this easy new Chevrolet steering. Only Chevrolet and some higher-priced cars use a ball bearing system to cut friction to a minimum.

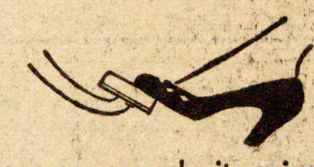

There's nothing quite so easy as Power Steering, of course. Good news: Chevrolet's new linkage-type Power Steering* carries a reduced price!

Apply the brakes like this ... or have power make it easier?

Improved brakes and new swing-type pedals make stopping a cinch. And Chevrolet's exclusive Anti-Dive control gives you "heads up" stops!

Chevrolet Power Brakes* are better than ever this year—let you stop by a simple pivot of your foot from accelerator to swing-type brake pedal.

Position the seat yourself ... or let electricity do it?

Chevrolet's big, beautifully upholstered front seat moves up and forward or down and back into your most comfortable driving position.

No worry about your battery in a new Chevrolet. It's the only car in its field with the reserve power of a 12-volt electrical system!

Automatically—

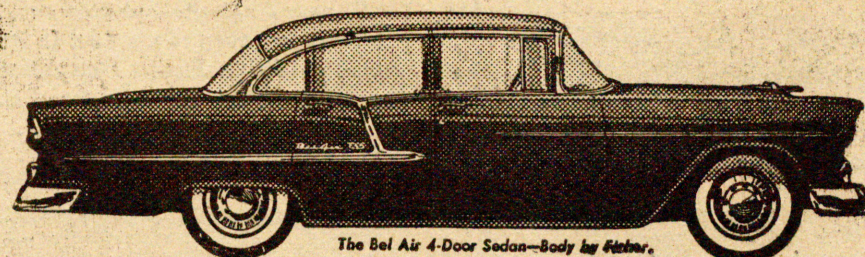

Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

What's a high-priced car got that Chevrolet hasn't? Not automatic power features. Not style—just look below. Not performance—just try out Chevrolet's new V8 or one of the new 6's. Not ride —perhaps the thing that will surprise you most is Chevrolet's fine, solid feel on the road. Come put it to the test. See how Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars in every way!

Mrs. Milton Geuther of Mokena, was the guest speaker at the annual PTA sponsored hobby-show at Maue school Wednesday evening. Following a brief talk on the educational value of hobbies, Mrs. Geuther told interesting and delightful stories about some dolls she showed from her large collection. Of particular interest were those dolls she had made during her daughter's growing - up years. Real people, close to the Geuther family, and familiar fictional characters were the inspiration for many of her dolls. Other dolls were representative of the changes made in the doll industry since the late eighteen hundreds, and still others had been collected because of other characteristics and oddities.

In the absence of Mrs. Charles Henning, president, Mrs. Chester Williams presided at the business meeting. In the election of officers, Mrs. Norman Strassenberg was chosen president, Mrs. Roy Walker, first vice president; Mrs. Stanley Koveikis, second vice president; third vice president according to by-laws; Mrs. Owen Maue, secretary and Mrs. Knieriem, treasurer.

Mrs. Strassenberg reported that she, Mrs. Maue and Mrs. Williams had attended the Southwestern Area council meeting of the Parent Teacher association in Palos Park Feb. 22, and that Mrs. Williams had been elected vice president of the Council at that meeting.

After the program, members and guests visited the class rooms to see the student's hobby-show entries. Judges were: Mrs. Elizabeth Cappel, principal of the Mokena elementary school, Miss Mary Ginder, teacher in the Orland Park elementary school and the Rev. Herschel Aseltine, of the Marley Community Baptist church.

One wonders in the chain letters which have been going around are not just another one of those signs of spring everywhere, has been clucking about? If new food concoctions are appearing on the daily menu, hubby had better resign himself because if the chain isn't broken his wife will be trying out new recipes for the next year. And incidentally, if the last name on one of those bits of nonsense isn't a familiar one, take another look. It might have been written in pig latin.

The chain letters gave one housewife an idea for an easy way to keep up on correspondence with the scattered members of her family. Now she writes only one letter and starts it off as follows:

"This chain letter is started in hope of bringing about better correspondence habits between members of the family of Reilly, Reilly, Reilly, Reilly and O'Reilly.

Unlike most chain letters, this does not have to be copied. Simply write a letter and send it to me, scratch your name off the top of the list and send this letter on to the name which followed yours. When the last name has been scratched off, I will receive five letters." Which only goes to show how one thing can lead to another.

Commemorate 70th Anniversary Of Salvation Army

A special ceremony commemorating the 70th anniversary of The Salvation Army's arrival in Chicago was conducted by the Army March 11, at the Northwest corner of Clark street and Chicago avenue at 12:30 p.m.

It was on this corner that Captain William Evans, whose memory is being honored, led the original Salvation Army group in the first Chicago Salvationist rally on March 4, 1885. Friday's ceremony was part of The Salvation Army's Diamond Jubilee celebration. The Salvation Army arrived in America 75 years ago on March 10.

The cadet band of William Booth Memorial Training college and personnel from territorial headquarters participating in the service. The group of approximately 100 uniformed officers and cadets assembled at Salvation Army headquarters, 719 N. State street, and marched to the ceremony.

Commissioner Claude E. Bates, commander of the central territory, and Col. William G. Harris, chief secretary of the territory, were the featured speakers in the brief ceremony.

From its modest three-man start 70 years ago, The Salvation Army in the Chicago area has grown to be a tremendous force for community good, for service to persons in need, and for charitable activities in many fields. A total of 39 corps, institutions and departments of the Salvation Army are now active in Chicago.

Ni-Resist Production Increases

During 1954 production of Ni-Resist, the corrosion resisting nickel cast iron, showed an increase. This alloy is used predominantly in components of equipment to resist corrosion, heat and wear.

The philosophy of Confucius, the great Chinese sage, (551-479 B.C.) has had a profound influence not merely upon Chinese thought and literature, but upon the practical affairs of life. Too bad Red China seems to have gotten so far away from him.

Afterburners

Many military jet airplanes today are fitted with afterburners which provide additional power for brief periods during take-off, climbing and combat maneuvering. Resembling a large stovepipe, the afterburner is similar to another complete engine attached to the exhaust of the airplane's jet engine. In the afterburner, additional fuel is injected into the hot exhaust gas from the jet engine, and mixed with the unburned oxygen in the exhaust, is ignited and burned. The temperature and velocity of the exhaust jet is thus greatly increased to provide additional power to the main engine. As severe conditions of temperature and stress are encountered, wrought high nickel alloys with good strength at elevated temperatures and resistance to oxidation are employed for the outer shell as well as structural parts of many afterburners.

WASHINGTON WEEK

From Congressman N. M. Mason
Excerpts From House Debate
On Draft Extension

Mr. Marshall (Dem. - Minn.): "Mr. Chairman, a goodly portion of our forefathers left Europe to avoid military conscription that was in effect in European countries. They came here where military conscription was unknown in peacetime.

"I am fundamentally and conscientiously opposed to conscription in peacetime. It may be necessary evil in time of war, but it is altogether unnecessary in time of peace. Canada does not resort to conscription. She has a volunteer Army. We have a volunteer Navy and Air Force. Why not a volunteer Army?"

"Service for the sake of service is a new concept in American life. In a Nation that has been traditionally suspicious of militarism for the sake of militarism, it is a concept foreign to both our experience and our philosophy. We have raised armies in time of war and will continue to do so, but we have never held that men should be conscripted without grave cause."

Mr. O'Hara (Rep. - Minn.): "Mr. Chairman, many of these hardship cases are cases where old people own the farm which is being operated by their son. I had one case of a widowed mother with a son operating the farm and a 12-year-old boy. Neither she nor the young boy could operate the car. They took the older son, who had been deferred for some years, and put him in the service. I wonder what kind of soldier that boy is going to make all the time he is in the service while worrying about his mother and his young brother on that farm."

"That happened in many more instances where there was an old couple on the farm with the father perhaps being as old as 70 and beyond, and the son, who had had the sole management of the farm, after having been deferred for years was taken at 27, 28, or 29 years of age."

Eisenhower's Health Re-Insurance Program

President Truman asked Congress to provide a compulsory Federal Health Insurance program financed by a 3 percent Federal withholding tax on all wages and salaries up to $4,800 per year. Congress turned thumbs down on the proposal.

President Eisenhower in his message to Congress did not propose a compulsory health insurance program, but he did propose that the Federal government set up a Health Re-Insurance Program under which the Federal government would underwrite health insurance policies issued by insurance companies, thereby insuring the insurance companies against losses. He asks that a fund of $100 million be established as the beginning of a revolving fund under which insurance companies could insure themselves against huge losses they may suffer.

One does not need to be a prophet to predict that insurance companies - anxious to undersell competitors, premiumwise - will assume reckless risks, which under the program would be guaranteed by the Federal government. It happened under RFC; it happened under FHA; and it would happen under the proposed program of health re-insurance.

The objective of the health re-insurance plan is a very worthy one, but the soundness of the plan is very questionable. One editorial writer expresses this thought by saying: "The program is commendable in its intent, but it is politically appealing, but evil in its effect upon the Federal fiscal structure."

Health Re-Insurance might prove to be the entering wedge to the socialization of medicine that the President says he seeks to avoid. It would certainly swell the army of bureaucrats now in Washington, and open the door to further centralization of government.

BABSON SAYS-

Copyright, 1954, Publishers
Financial Bureau, Inc.

Babson Discusses Merchants, Advertising, And Telephoning
Merchandising at the retail level has already passed through Three Revolutions since 1875.

Great Changes Since 1875
Preceding those days there were no mail order houses or department stores, few chain stores (A & P had 50 stores, which carried only tea, coffee, and crockery), but many small, independent merchants. They were doing 95% of the retail business. My father was one of these in Gloucester, Massachusetts.

The First Revolution in retailing was brought on by the department stores and mail order houses. This made it unnecessary to visit several different stores, if you lived in a city, while, if you lived in the country, you could shop by mail from your farm. This Revolution was desperately fought by the old-time retailers. The Second Revolution came with the chain stores, which cut out the wholesalers. The department stores continued to buy through wholesalers; but the chains bought direct from the manufacturers. Hence, they were fought by legislation and taxation enacted at the demand of the middlemen.

Discount Houses Now The Target
The Third Revolution is now on, being caused by the "discount houses." This is an effort to reduce retail prices by cutting out the bureaucracy, high rents, and unnecessary overhead developed by the department stores. But, a Fourth Revolution, as a revolt against parking meters, automobile congestion, and a lack of sufficient free parking, is just ahead of us.

This is being temporarily met by building new "Shopping Centers." It is reported that Allied Stores is to spend over $200,000,000 for this purpose. Shopping Centers, however, will be only a halfway cure. Wanamakers, which was the world's largest department store when I was a boy, has thrown in the sponge in its fight against automobiles and discount houses.

New Shopping Centers Just Ahead
Shopping Centers offer free parking and "self-service," but the high rents may result in higher prices. Anyway, customers who use Shopping Centers are more dependent on automobiles than if they patronized the old downtown merchants. In fact, if city officials would treat their bus systems fairly, the present downtown stores could continue to give better service and perhaps undersell the new Shopping Center prices. I don't know. Different cities differ.

The next, or Fourth, Revolution in retailing will be forced upon us by the automobiles. Simple arithmetic proves that the present race to make "the most and the largest" automobiles, with insufficient increase in highways cannot continue much longer. It is true that we are building splendid new toll roads; but very little is being done to avoid congestion in cities and to help local merchants. Otherwise, people may some day cease using automobiles for shopping. These machines may remain in the garage except for trips - as mother's sewing machine is now seldom used.

More Advertising And Telephoning

I forecast that this Fourth Revolution will result in customers buying from their homes soon by telephone, and later by television. Increased newspaper advertising with many more newspaper pictures of products for sale, supplemented by better telephone service, will become the custom. People are now sick of hunting for places to park their cars when shopping. People will think of the risk and gasoline costs of driving to Shopping Centers. The time may come when 80% of the shoppers will sit at home in a comfortable chair, study the newspaper advertisements, and do their ordering by telephone.

Newspaper advertising and telephones are the only cure for the present increased automobile congestion. In fact, I believe the stocks of certain newspapers - which are now temporarily in the lumps - plus stocks of telephone companies, preferably the wide-awake Independents, are among today's best "buys." (Local bankers please take notice!) Furthermore, I am investing my hard-earned money in "United Stores" stocks (listed on the New York and American Stock Exchanges). A company has recently organized a new corporation to profit from this coming Fourth Revolution.

Nickel Silver Alloys

The nickel silvers, a group of copper-nickel-zinc alloys, containing up to 18 per cent nickel, remain the preferred base metal for silver-plated articles. Applications for these alloys in costume jewelry, slide fasteners, fishing equipment and other markets increased during 1954 with the improvement in their availability.

Sows Need Occo Every Day

Brood sows need a mineral balanced ration, both before and after farrowing. Occo, the complete ratio-combined Mineral-Vitamin Supplement, provides all the minerals and Vitamin D a sow needs to farrow and feed big, healthy litters. Occo-fed sows have less embryo loss, produce well boned, busier new pigs.

Let me help you plan a feeding program for brood sows that will do the best job from start to finish. I'll show you how little it costs with Occo.

Nickel-Chromium Alloy

Although the total tonnage of nickel-chromium alloy castings produced during 1954 was less than in the previous year, the average nickel content of these alloys showed an increase which accounted for approximately the same amount of primary nickel being consumed by this field as in 1953. The principal application for these alloy castings remained in the heat-treating furnace field and for services involving resistance to corrosion.

THE KEY to unlock new wealth from your pastures

The spiraled, yard-long cylinder in the Allis-Chalmers Forage Harvester is the key to a new system of mechanized grazing that can unlock a wealth of extra forage from your pastures.

When you take your pasture to the cows, its carrying capacity goes up 50 percent. You can chop enough in just a few minutes to satisfy the herd all day.

The operation depends on the smooth cutting of the curved and cupped knives on the rugged 15-inch cylinder. Cutting edges are carbo-nitride hardened and built-in power sharpeners make it easy to keep them keen and parallel with the shear bar.

Come in. We'd like to show you this power key to extra pasture profit.
